A witness of 1200 years of continuous salt production, the Grande Saline has been listed as a UNESCO world heritage site since 2009. Its underground gallery with a length of 165m, its working 19th Century pumping system and last saltpan in France make this a real jewel of Franche-Comté heritage.

Salins has a rich past as can be seen from its built and religious heritage. Let the Tourist Office guide take you through the picturesque alleys as you head off to discover its exceptional heritage and its hidden jewels.

Perhaps you are not familiar with Jura wines? Come and discover this vineyard. The winemakers will be pleased to explain their working techniques and let you taste these delightfully atypical wines.

Extend the experience as you please!

It takes less than 20 minutes by car to discover Arbois and Poligny, two towns of great character where you can sample Jura wines and Comté cheese, learn about or review the life of Louis Pasteur and be amazed by the numerous natural sites.

Within a 15km radius of Salins-les-Bains, you can join the site of the royal saltworks, Saline Royale d'Arc-et-Senans. Take the opportunity to continue discovering the history of salt in the area. The village of Nansous-Sainte-Anne is the same distance away and shelters a blacksmith's - a manufacturing site for agricultural scythes, as well as it being the source of the river Lison.
