Made-to-measure meeting rooms

The Royal Saltworks at Arc-et-Senans, listed as a UNESCO world heritage site, welcomes seminars on a human scale as well as major events. We have at our disposal eight meeting rooms and capacity for ten to 200 persons and two large naves that can accommodate up to 900 persons. Their layout, equipment and decoration are adaptable to suit your needs.

31 rooms in a three-star hotel

On the grounds of the Royal Saltworks, the 31 rooms of this three-star hotel have been completely refurbished by famous designer Jean-Michel Wilmotte and decorated by the architect and author of comic books Damien Cabiron.

These artists worked in total accordance with the original will of Claude-Nicolas Ledoux, the creator of the Saltworks, who had wanted an architecture "as pure as that of the sun on its path".

ALL ABOUT SALT

Guided tour featuring the history of salt

The sensory workshop is preceded by a guided tour of the exhibition "The History of Salt".

The guide will tell you the history of the saltworks and how it functioned from the 18th Century and will accompany you on the trail of the white gold, from its origin, through production, trade, its uses and its value - right up to the present day.

Duration: 1 hour

Sensory workshop about salt "Salt in every sense"

In teams, a challenge that appeals to all five senses will be set. The objective? To discover the properties and qualities of salt - as unusual as they are varied. Both, independently and as a guided exercise, this workshop is preceded by a visit to the salt museum, allowing participants to put their deductive skills, observation and reactions to the test. Once the workshop has finished, you will be unbeatable experts regarding everything there is to know about salt and its origin.

Duration: 1 hour and 30 minutes for the visit of the salt museum, followed by the workshop "Salt in every sense"

ALL ABOUT THE ARCHITECTURE

Discovering the saltworks

A guide speaker presents the eleven buildings, places of residence and work for the salt-workers and provides commentary on the exhibition "History of salt" before helping you discover the life and work of Claude-Nicolas Ledoux.

Ledoux Museum.

A guide speaker describes the life of the architect, the works he built and his projects for the ideal town using 57 scale models from the Ledoux museum, the only museum in Europe dedicated to a single architect.

Duration: 1 hour

Parlour game: The invention of UNESCO world heritage

Guided by a games master (mediator from the Royal Saltworks), teams will be challenged to find on a geographical map several national and international sites listed by UNESCO world heritage. Preceded by a guided tour, this game allows players to discover or rediscover images and clues among the most beautiful monuments and natural sites in the world.

Duration: 1 hour and 20 minutes for the visit of the exhibition "The invention of UNESCO world heritage", followed by the parlour game
